- to furing the last two years the Meinrich Mertz Institute for Oscillation Research in Berlin-Adlershof has tried to obtain permission to use an area of about 300 by 70 meters adjoining the former German airfield in Rerlin-Addershof for experiments bearing on sound propagation. Permission res not granted, however, because the Kasernierte Volkspolizei, which has been in charge of the air field, raised objections.
- 2. On 7 July 1953, the Heinrich Hertz Institute was notified by Dr. Georg Otterbein, referent for technical sciences in the Academy of Sciences, that the KVP had withdrawn its objections and that the institute would soon be suthorized to use the requested area.
